Freshmen Give up Beanies After Defeating Sophomores In All Traditional Contests

The freshman class liberated themselves from their beanies Monday night by copping all three of the events in the annual freshman-sophomore contest.

The class of '65 trounced over the sophs in the tug-of-war, volley ball, and basketball. The champs won the first pull of the tug-of-war in 4.5 seconds. The alleged 220 pound average of the sophomore line did not curtail the freshman as they went on to win the second pull.

The second event of the evening was volleyball. The final score was 21-13 in favor of the underclassmen. They jumped to an early three point lead followed by two sophomore tallies. The game then broke to an 8-3 lead for the freshman. Several bad serves brought the score to 13-9. The sophs never held the lead and watched the frosh hammer on to victory.

The third and final event of the evening was the basketball game. The frosh won 34-32. The sophomores took an early lead 4-0. The entire game was nip and tuck as the score never varied more than six points. The freshmen scored the final winning bucket in the last ten seconds of play.

Father Lennon In TV Lectures

A series of six video-taped programs on the theme of Teenage Psychology will be presented by Rev. Joseph L. Lennon, O.P., Dean of Providence College, on the program "The World Around Us" at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday morning, on WJAR-TV. Under the subtitle "The World of Our Juveniles" the program will run for six successive Tuesdays.

The same program will be repeated on Sundays of those weeks at 11:30 a.m.

Reilly New Head Of Senior Council

A council of seniors, headed by Charles T. Reilly, to aid the class in conducting their various programs is soon to be formulated, senior class president J. Clement Cicilline has announced.

According to Cicilline, "The purpose of this council is to formulate ideas of interest to the senior class into concrete plans in order warding one for seniors. Meetings will be conducted throughout the year with this incentive in mind."

Regarding results of the council, Cicilline added, "Decisions of the council, which are subject to the approval of the Rev. W. D. Kane, class moderator, and the class officers, will be posted on the class bulletin board."

Senator Proposes Establishment Of Thomistic Studies Institute

United States Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut, guest speaker at the night in honor of the Very proposed the establishment of a Thomistic studies institute at Providence College.

One of the purposes of this institute, the center of which would be a library of Thomistic literature, would be to help combat "the cold dogma of Communism," according to Sen. Dodd. He cited the establishment of medieval cultural institutes at the University of Toronto and at the University of Notre Dame to show the upsurge of interest in scholasticism.

Father Dore later commented that the College "would certainly welcome and appreciate

Buffet-Mixer Planned by Junior Class; Meeting for Weekend Plans Is Tonight

The junior class held a class meeting last Wednesday and announced that plans for a buffet-mixer had been drawn up for Sunday, November 5.

The mixer will be held from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. and a buffet dinner will be served. The mixer, according to co-chairman Don Slover, is for the junior class only. The bids for the affair have been priced at $1.00.

Slover said that invitations have been sent to practically all the New England girls colleges and that he expects a good turnout for the mixer. He added that a similar dance held in his freshman year had received good support and was hopeful that this event would be supported by his classmates.

Tom Rafferty, co-chairman of the Junior Weekend, announced that the first meeting of those interested in working on the Junior Weekend Committee will be held tonight at 7:00 p.m. in room 300, Harkins Hall. He called for a large turnout in order to make the weekend a success.

At the meeting, Frank Mazzeo, co-editor of the class newspaper, called for volunteers to work on the paper. The first issue of the paper is due sometime in December.

The Ring Committee reported that to date 363 rings have been ordered and announced that there will be one more fitting in February.

Joe Walsh, Junior Class president, presided over the meeting.

Third SC Autumn Festival Termed Success; Throws off Financial Jinx of Past Dances

The third annual Autumn Festival sponsored by the Student Congress at the King Phillip last Friday night threw off the financial jinx that haunted the previous Fall dances.

Construction Begun On Two Buildings

Both the new Guzman Hall, which will house the students on campus who are studying for the Dominican priesthood, and the new science building, the Edward J. Hickey Science Research Laboratory, are expected to be completed before the end of next summer, according to the Very Rev. Vincent C. Dore, O.P., President of Providence College.

The new Guzman Hall, a three-story, split-level, "L" shaped residence costing approximately $600,000 is being constructed on property abutting Huxley Avenue and will face the road leading back to St. Joseph's Hall. Although architecturally the building will be ultra-modern, it will harmonize with other campus buildings.

The two upper stories of the structure will contain 30 bedrooms, housing approximately 86 students. Rooms and studies will also be provided for the four priests who will reside in

According to co-chairman Joe Keough the dance was a social and a financial success. Keough said that more than 250 couples attended the affair but he indicated that the dorm support was not as good as it might have been.

Last year despite the 265 couple turnout the Congress lost approximately $1,000. Lester Lanin had been signed to play at the Festival.

This year, according to Keough, it was the aim of the Congress to decrease the cost of the dance in order to increase the profits, while maintaining a high degree of social success.

He did not mention the exact profit of the Congress but said that this would be made known at a later date when the figures were reported. The money will go towards helping the needy clubs on campus and for future Congress activities.

The faculty was represented by the Very Rev. Vincent C. Dore, O.P., Rev. Anthony A. Jurgelaitis, O.P., Rev. Royal J. Gardner, O.P., Rev. Frederick M. Jelly, O.P., and Mr. Zygmunt Friedemann.

MEMO FROM THE EDITOR:

Each year Providence College grows a little—both in enrollment and in physical structure. This year, fortunately, was no exception; enrollment was raised several hundred; and construction of two new buildings was started.

But as PC grows, so also grows the number of students driving automobiles to campus. It is now evident that the present capacity of the parking facilities on this campus are no longer adequate to serve the faculty and student body.

It is a common sight now to see the streets neighboring Providence College filled with vehicles belonging to the students of the College.

Additional parking space is needed . . . but where? The face of the campus towards Eaton and River Streets would be a poor place for additional lots, since any alteration would mar the overall appearance of the campus.

There is, however, a fairly large area behind Raymond Hall. An extension of the blacktop into this field could serve as a parking area. It would be accessible from Huxley Avenue, and if another dormitory or classroom building is ever built in this area, the parking facilities would be convenient.

Another item for investigation on the part of the administration should be the number of spaces allotted for faculty members' cars. It seems to us that there are far more spaces reserved than are actually needed.

Whatever plan is designed to alleviate the parking situation, it should be put into effect immediately. The need is pressing indeed.

National Fellowship Available to Seniors

Two national fellowship programs, the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowships and the Danforth Graduate Fellowships, are currently available to PC seniors. Both of the programs have as their stated aim "the encouragement of able young men to enter teaching and thus help meet the pressing need for college teachers."

In order to qualify for the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, a student must either be a senior in an accredited institution or a graduate who had accumulated no graduate credit. There is no age limit. To compete for a fellowship, a candidate must apply to his regional chairman no later than October 31.

The stipend attached to the award includes a $1500 grant, plus dependency allowances for wife and children; the Foundation also pays directly to the graduate school all tuition and fees for the Fellow. One thousand fellowships are awarded each year, along with Honorable Mentions to another thousand and candidates who usually receive financial aid from other sources.

The qualifications for the Danforth Program include "outstanding undergraduate achievement" and the potential for effective college teaching, as determined by a required personal interview. The age limit is 30. The completed application form must be submitted no later than November 24.

The award is for one year, and is normally renewable for to this is added the payment of all required tuition and fees. The Foundation grants 100 fellowships each year.

Waterbury Club Starts Activity

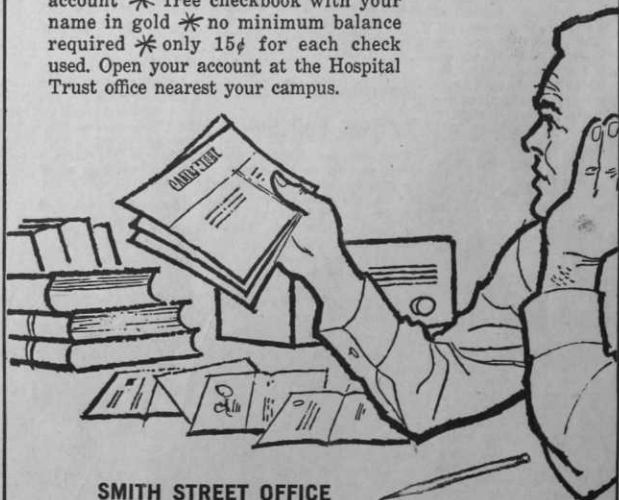

Election of officers for the 1961 season, as well as plans for forthcoming activities was discussed at a recent meeting of the Waterbury Club.

Retiring President Anthony Leonardi turned over the presidential gavel to Maurice J. Maroney, unanimous choice of the members. A hope that Freshmen would become enthusiastic members of the club was expressed by the outgoing president. Other officers include Robert C. Johnson, Vice President; William A. Stein, Secretary; and Ronald L. Brousseau, Treasurer.

During the coming year the club plans to sponsor a Christmas Dance for the students and Alumni. Also discussed were plans to boost the Treasury.

Rev. Daniel F. Reilly, O.P., is the moderator of the club.

Theta Chapter of DES Will Induct New Members From Two Upper Classes

Theta Chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma, the National Honor Society for Catholic Colleges and Universities, announced the nominations of candidates for the academic year 1961-62 this past week.

These nominations are offered to seniors and juniors who have demonstrated a marked degree of their academic excellence in the course of their respective years at Providence College.

The following seniors have been nominated for membership: William J. Finan, chemistry; Lawrence Redmond, history; Joseph F. Gazerro, education; Raymond H. Bacon, education; Richard W. Kentile, language; G. Kevin Fitzgerald, education; John F. Cavanagh, physics; Robert S. Dombroski, language; Walter Minot, general studies; Raymond R. Picard, history; Lawrence E. Horan, physics; John R. Manley, education; Alfred C. Angeline, business; Edward G. Blankstein, biology; David E. Fitzgerald, education; Eugene Bouley, education; John R. Ruggerio, political science.

Juniors nominated this year are: Robert J. Ducharme, mathematics; Francis J. Egan, economics; Leo Carroll, sociology; Stephen Garfinkel, business; John A. McCarthy, education; Francis A. Amalfitano, philosophy; John D. DeFoe, chemistry; Vincent F. Henderson, letters; Arthur C. Mattos, letters; Joseph J. Ganino, mathematics; Anthony T. Vallica, political science; Stanislaus Blejwas, history; Joseph A. Moretti, biology (NIH); Donald E. Brunelle, education.

Father Royal J. Gardner, O.P., Chaplain of DES, stated that the induction meeting, the first of the year, will be held in near future. At this same meeting the election will be held for the presidency and vice-presidency of the club and for two members to join the executive committee, which already comprises Robert L. Deasy, of the history department, as secretary-treasurer; Richard Grace and Walter Conn. "As in the past," Father Gardner said, "Theta will attempt to stimulate intellectual activity on PC's campus by its continued presentation of vital, learned scholars and by its own meetings such as have been held in past years."

Fathers Frederick Hickey, O.P., Director of the Science Honors Program, and John F. Cunningham, O.P., of the Philosophy Department and Co-Director of the Arts Honors Program, are to be inducted this year as faculty members.

New Building...

Guzman Hall. The building features a chapel which will accommodate 126 persons and will occupy the entire ell of the building.

The architects designing the building are Charles A. Maguire associates. The design for the new Guzman Hall is in accordance with a new architectural principles to take advantage of natural land inclination and elevations.

The architect for the new science building is John F. Hogan. The National Institute of Health has agreed to pay up to $122,000 toward the cost of the building, matching dollar for dollar the money the college spends. However, since the building is expected to cost about $400,000 equipped, the college has put in an application requesting an additional $68,000 from NIH.

A new electrical substation, an underground distribution system bring high tension electricity into the College is scheduled to be completed in November. The substation, at a cost of $50,000 was built because the college will be using more electricity than the present Narragansett Electric system can supply.

Alumni Fetes Fr. Dore At Testimonial Dinner

A sellout crowd filled the grand ballroom of the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel to overflow at the testimonial dinner of the Very Rev. Vincent C. Dore, O.P., President of the College. The principal speaker for the affair which took place last Sunday evening was Thomas J. Dodd, '30, U. S. Senator from Connecticut.

Senator Dodd noted that "Father Dore is in himself an embodiment of the ideal of the 'whole man' which true education seeks to develop. As an athlete, as a student, as a man, as a teacher, as an administrator, as a civic figure and above all, as a spiritual leader, he has left upon all things he has touched the mark of his zeal, his character and his great ability. We confidently look forward to his administration as a period of unparalleled growth and achievement."

Senator Dodd expressed hope that a great Thomistic library and center would one day be established at the College. He also remarked that "As those of us who have returned to Providence College for this occasion look at what has been wrought here, as we meet again these great and good Dominicans who work and teach here, as we reflect that other institutions and other men across this country and throughout the world are laboring in the same vineyard, then we can leave with renewed confidence that there are forces working for the triumph of good which shall not be denied the victory."

In response to Senator Dodd's speech, Father Dore said, "I am indeed grateful for the many kind expressions of esteem I have received from so many people in all walks of life." Father Dore also expressed gratitude for this testimonial reception and dinner that be considered, after a fashion, an inaugural dinner. In a deeper and much more realistic sense, it is a worthy tribute to the fair name and prestige of Providence College."

After thanking the Alumni for making the testimonial "the living reality that it is," Father Dore concluded that "Without long-range, top-level educational planning on a state and regional-wide level, without breaking down the barriers of isolation we have erected, we will never see the fields of education, white for the harvest."

Greetings of the diocese were extended by the Most Rev. Russell J. McVinnie, D.D., Bishop of Providence. John A. Notte, '3rd, brought a message of congratulations from his father. The governor, who was unable to be present, Mayor Walter H. Reynolds of Providence represented the city. The Rev. Joseph L. Lennon, O.P., '40, Dean of the College, extended the greetings of the faculty.

The invocation was performed by the Rev. Charles V. Fennell, O.P., '28, while benediction was delivered by the Most Rev. F. Maloney, D.D., '26, Auxiliary Bishop of Providence.

Father Dore was presented with a 1962 sedan by Alumni Association. President M. Joseph McLaughlin, '42.

James A. Higgins, '23, a past President of the Alumni Association, served as toastmaster and was co-chairman of the affair with Joseph Lyons, '31.

PC Reorganizes Chem. Society; John DeFoe Named Chairman

The Providence College Chapter of the Student Affiliate of the American Chemical Society has reorganized after a two-year period of inactivity.

At the organizational meeting on October 9, the following appointments were made: Chairman, John D. DeFoe, NIH Chemistry '63; vice-chairman, Louis McAdams, Chemistry '62; secretary, Robert Rosati, NIH Chemistry '64; and treasurer, Allan Noonan, NIH Chemistry '64. The group moderator is Dr. Mark N. Reick.

At the meeting, delegates were assigned to represent this chapter at the Intercollegiate Chemical Society. Christopher Cimarruti was named chief delegate; Anthony Iannone and Thomas Pyter were named alternates.

At the I. C. S. meeting, which was held at Harvard University on October 17, Iannone was elected vice-chairman of the I. C. S.

The next meeting of the A.C.S. will be Monday, October 30, at 8:00 in A-100, Albertus Magnus.

Pyramid Players

Father Morris, O.P., director of the Pyramid Players, has announced that "Three Men on a Horse," a farce comedy "Three Men on a Horse" was J. C. Holm, will be presented shortly.

The production is presently being cast by Father Morris and Mr. Francis Hanley, director of the drama workshop.

Three Men on a Horse was first produced at The Playhouse in New York, January 30, 1935.

A musical version of the play "Let It Ride," is presently on Broadway with George Gobel, Barbara Nichols and Sam Levene.

Editorially Speaking

Liberal Philosophy...

Father Reid, the moderator of the Aquinas Society, is to be commended for his planned lecture series on "contemporary thought." Father Reid plans to hold discussions on such social philosophers as Freud, Lenin, Dewey, and Sartre.

And this, in our opinion, is good. In an intellectual atmosphere characterized by the Thomistic or systematic approach, the average student is afforded little opportunity to study the works of other leading men in the field of philosophy. A PC grad is sometimes criticized or even ridiculed for his lack of even the most general familiarity with famous philosophic minds.

Well... now that the knowledge is here for the taking, a matter of several months will show how many students are interested enough to turn out for the lecture series. They will certainly be as worthwhile as Carolan Club movies? Won't they?

Worthwhile Proposal...

The proposal of United States Senator Thomas J. Dodd to establish a Thomistic studies institute at Providence College, the center of which would be a library of Thomistic literature, which would help combat "the cold dogma of Communism" should be well received in this College's academic circles.

The basic principle behind the establishment of the library, that is, to combat communism, is one of international importance and significance.

But the actual construction of such an institute is certainly beyond the present scope of PC's expansion program. Perhaps if the Institute were incorporated into the plans for the new library, PC's battle against Communism could progress much more quickly.

A Swinging Affair...

The Autumn Festival sponsored by the Student Congress was without a doubt a "swinging affair." Co-chairmen Bob Sauer, Frank Venice, and Joe Keough took what was perhaps the most jinxed of all campus functions and turned it into both a social and financial success.

The previous Autumn Festivals were plagued by misfortunes such as bad weather, bad planning, and the lack of support of the PC student body. These misfortunes cost the Congress approximately $1800 over a two year period.

Although the co-chairmen had no control over the weather they did exercise their power to rid themselves of bad planning and, in turn got the support of the students. The constant efforts on the part of the co-chairmen resulted in both social and financial profit.

There is no doubt that this trio of Sauer, Venice, and Keough did a fine job in making the Autumn Festival the success that it was. Our congratulations are extended to them for a job well done.

and theological bases for a counter-attack against Communism.

"St. Thomas Aquinas showed us the philosophy and the system of logic by which we can seek and find the truth. His teachings remain the basic guides not only in theology and philosophy but in economic, social and political questions as well," the senator said.

In stressing the importance of the establishment of a Thomistic institute, Sen. Dodd said: "To those of us who believe with Pope Leo XIII that the teaching of the scholastic is a necessary basis for the future restoration of the social order, such a center for Thomistic learning is essential."

Senator Dodd said Western man must reject the materialistic goals and find strength in his spiritual origins in the battle against Communism.

He said: "If we try to combat the Soviets on the ground that they offer the world a brutal and tyrannical form of materialism, whereas we offer mankind a humane materialism softened by democracy, then our stand is futile and ultimately self-defeating."

Sen. Dodd also stated that the role of Providence College in helping to re-align America's goals is most important and could be increased with the foundation of the medieval cultural institute.

THE DATING SEASON

I have recently returned from a tour of 950,000 American colleges where I made a survey of undergraduate dating customs and sold mechanical dogs, and I have tabulated my findings and I am now prepared to tell you the simple secret of successful dating.

The simple secret is simply this: a date is successful when the man knows how to treat the girl.

And how does a girl like to be treated? If you want to know, read and remember these four cardinal rules of dating:

1. A girl likes to be treated with respect.

When you call for your girl, do not drive up in front of the sorority house and yell, "Hey, fat lady!" Get out of your car. Walk respectfully to the door. Knock respectfully. When your girl comes out, tug your forelock and say respectfully, "Good evening, your honor." Then offer her a Marlboro, for what greater respect can you show your girl than to offer Marlboro with its fine flavor and exclusive selectate filter? It will indicate immediately that you respect her taste, respect her discernment, respect her intelligence. So, good buddies, before going out on a date, always remember to buy some Marlboros, available in soft pack or flip-top box in all 50 of the United States and also Cleveland.

2. A girl likes a good listener.

Do not monopolize the conversation. Let her talk while you listen attentively. Make sure, however, that she is not herself a good listener. I recollect a date I had once with a coed named Greensleeves Sigafos, a lovely girl, but unfortunately a listener, not a talker. I too was a listener so we just sat all night long, each with his hand cupped over his ear, straining to catch a word, not talking hour after hour until finally a policeman came by and arrested us both for vagrancy. I did a year and a day. She got by with a suspended sentence because she was the sole support of her aged housemother.

3. A girl likes to be taken to nice places.

By "nice" places I do not mean expensive places. A girl does not demand luxury. All she asks is a place that is pleasant and gracious. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, for example, or Mount Rushmore, or the Taj Mahal, or the Bureau of Weights and Measures. Find places like these to take your girl. In no circumstances must you take her to an oil-cracking plant.

4. A girl likes a man to be well-informed.

Come prepared with a few interesting facts that you can drop casually into the conversation. Like this: "Did you know, Snookypuss, that when cattle, sheep, camels, goats, antelopes, and other members of the cud-chewing family get up, they always get up hind legs first?" Or this: "Are you aware, Hotlips, that corn grows faster at night?" Or this: "By the way, Loverhead, Oslo did not become the capital of Norway till July 11, 1924."

If you can slip enough of these nuggets into the conversation before dinner, your date will grow too torpid to eat. Some men save up to a half million dollars a year this way.

or L&M's (or, if you're a menthol man, Oasis), tear the bottom panels off all 5 packs, tuck them in the envelope, sign your name and mail it.

Now comes the brain work. If you pass the quiz you'll receive a limerick in the mail with the last line missing. So finish it! Send in the best rhyme you can think of. If the judges (an independent, impartial lot) think your line is the cleverest, you're like behind the wheel of your Sprite already.

Enter incessantly! Because there are 8 Sprites up for grabs, dad! The 4 winners of the Fall Contest will be announced at the end of the Fall Semester. Then the whole jazz goes into high gear again—and toward the end of the Spring Semester the other 4 Sprites go on the block. So stay with it all year — keep smoking those wonderful Chesterfield, L&M or Oasis cigarettes—keep trying! Win, man!

Buy 5 packs and get started. There will be 8 new '62 Sprites on the campuses of little old New England by next May, and you might as well jingle the keys to one of them in your jeans... right?

IN A RECENT interview, the Rev. Vincent C. Dore, O.P., President of the College, expounded some of his beliefs regarding the effects that the athletic program has had in the school's past growth.

When asked if he felt that the increase in applications to the college was due to the Friar's basketball accomplishments, Father Dore replied negatively. He pointed out that more students were applying from high schools already represented on the PC campus and those to which faculty members have visited.

He also explained that board, room and tuition here is much lower than at most colleges and that high school seniors apply to as many as ten colleges, thus adding to the number of applicants.

WITH BASKETBALL almost upon us, and this season's prospects for a successful season outstanding to say the least, many a Friar undergraduate is wondering if it will be New York in March or the NCAA tourney. A common topic on campus has been whether PC would play in the NCAA or the annual NIT if bids for both tournaments were offered to the Friar contingent. Father Dore speculated that if NCAA bid is awarded the Friars would probably be obligated to accept it.

If this, however, was not the case, the athletic council would decide in which event to participate.

Father Dore was asked if football would ever be played at Providence again. The problems of maintaining a football squad are many and monumental as he outlined them.

Football was dropped at PC chiefly because of a yearly loss close to $30,000.

A winning team would be required to support a pigskin program, and a winning gridiron machine requires extensive recruiting and other policies that would be adverse to both the College and NCAA requirements. Father Dore, however, while he was vice-president, recommended to the athletic council that soccer be established as a fall sport.

He related that soccer would first be played on an intermural level, and, if the students showed sufficient interest, the sport would be given varsity status.

Poor Weather Slows Dorm Basketball; Suds, Reptiles Deadlocked in Top Spot

Pete Kennedy, co-chairman of the Carolan Club's announced Monday night that a meeting was held that night, to attempt to have the league games moved indoors to Alumni Hall.

Due to the unexpected cold weather, all games scheduled for Monday night had to be postponed. The remaining frays will be conducted on the outdoor court, weather permitting, at the rear of Aquinas Hall.

With only ten games remaining to be played in the double elimination tournament, the winning aggregation will be known by the end of next week, at the latest.

At the present time, two upperclass teams, the Suds and the Reptiles, remain undefeated. The Suds are captained by Jerry Murray while the Reptiles play behind Ed Quinn.

In order to reach the finals, each of the teams will have played a total of five games with a minimum of four victorious and one loss. At this point, nine teams remain in competition, seven of which have suffered one defeat. Three teams have been eliminated after suffering dual losses.

Capt's Tschida and McGeough Look to Successful Mark; Cite Hustle, Spirit of Club

Announcement was made early this fall by the Eastern Collegiate Hockey Association that Marshall Tschida of Providence College was voted the most improved hockey player in New England college hockey.

The Minnesota native has been the team's leading scorer for the past two years. If he continues as in the past, it seems certain that this year he will break the all-time three season scoring record. Tschida is an exceptionally fast skater, and is a menace to opposing goalies with his tricky stick handling in front of the cage.

Frosh Coaches Start Tryouts

At six o'clock on Tuesday evening of this week Coach George Ducharme began practice sessions for the freshman hockey team. Coach Ducharme said that he intends to hold practice two mornings and one afternoon a week for the first month. Mr. Ducharme has had an opportunity to see only three of the boys in action but he has had reports on several of the other players.

Last week he called a black-board meeting at which only seven boys were able to attend but he hopes, nonetheless, that this year's freshman hockey team will have a very successful year.

The freshman basketball team also has tryouts scheduled for this week. Coach Jim Swartz said that he hopes to have the team cut down to twelve by the end of the week. The freshman team will be supported by four outstanding high school athletes.

The frosh expected to lead this year's edition of the Friars are: Bob Kovalski, who at six feet, nine inches is the tallest of the four. He played his high school basketball at Smith Academy in Massachusetts. In addition to Kovalski there are two local boys, Jim Cox of Classical High School and Jim Ahern from Hope High. The fourth boy is Donald Dutton who played ball in New York.

Coach Swartz has high hopes that these boys and the others who make the team will lead the freshman team to another fine year.

At the end of last season, Marsh was elected varsity co-captain of the hockey team along with defenseman Jack McGeough. The two captains are very optimistic about the coming season. Both agree that the squad is showing a great deal of hustle and spirit. "This is a good indication of the desire that the team has," says Tschida. "It should also be a good indication of the coming season," says McGeough.

The big test for the Friar pucksters comes on the weekend of December 1 and 2 when they face Boston University on Friday night in Boston, and then return home to meet RPI on Saturday afternoon. McGeough feels that these are the two toughest teams on the schedule and that by beating them the team will have a chance to go all the way. He thinks, that with an even break with regard to injuries, the squad can achieve the best record ever at Providence College.

Jim Geger and Lou Lamorello are the other leading returnees from last year's team which compiled an 11-9 record under Coach Tom Eccleston. Veteran goalie Dan Hornstein will be back to guard the nets. Ray Mooney and Joe Meldon are the leading prospects from last year's freshman team. This group promises to be a strong addition to the squad. John Donahue, who was sidelined last year by injuries, is returning in fit condition. All of this points to a stronger team than last year's group.

"Good Year" — Hadnot

"We're ready to go this season," said Captain-elect Jim Hadnot. "Barring injuries, we'll have a great season. Of course, you never know; but as far as I'm concerned, we'll go a long way."

Hadnot, a vital cog in the PC basketball juggernaut, should have his finest season. He is bolstered by top-drawer personnel which should take a lot of pressure off Jim's shoulders. Last season, his 19.6 scoring average paced the club, and his total of 475 rebounds

Friars Nip Rams; Frosh Victorious

Paced by Stan Blejwas, Dan Shanahan, and Tom Zimmerman, placing second, third and fourth respectively, the Providence College varsity harriers outpointed the University of Rhode Island, 26-29, last Friday. It was the team's third straight victory under their new mentor, Ray Hanlon.

The meet was held under showery, windy, and cold conditions on the Providence

Stan Blejwas crosses the line in second place in last Friday's meet against URI.

College home course. These conditions did not hamper Blejwas, who covered the 3.6 miles in 17:20. Shanahan followed him across the line two seconds later.

Still remaining undefeated at home, the hill and dulers took five positions out of the first nine. Sophomore John Hamilton placed eighth, followed by Jim Harlow. Other Friar finishers were: Tom Souza, eleventh; Bill Lavigne, twelfth; Mario Mazzorella, thirteenth; and George Knuetel, fourteenth.

In the preceding meet, the PC freshman squad remained undefeated by out-running the University of Rhode Island frosh, 21-36. John Douglas, who has placed first in all of the freshman meets this year, crossed the finish line first with a time of 11:51.6 for the 2.4 mile course. Bill Smith placed second in 11:55.

The team has extended its record to three victories and no defeats, and it has great prospects for the future. Not only do they have strong runners in Douglas and Smith, but also in Tom Durie, Terry Leary, Pete Jonsson, and Pete Kotelan. They have shown impressive running throughout the young season.

Because of the inclement weather, the spectators were at a minimum. This might have been an ample excuse for this last meet but not for the rest of the season. The trend of few men to cheer on the team has been common in the past seasons and is present this year.

Dorm Students Nip Prison Club; Win in Overtime Thriller, 60-59

Providence College dorm students traveled to the maximum security section of the Adult Correctional Institution Columbus Day to play basketball against the inmates. PC, captained by Mike Kelduff, won 60-59 in an overtime thriller.

The game, which was refereed by Jim Hadnot, consisted of two twenty minute halves.

With 5 seconds to go Captain Kelduff called time with PC trailing 59-58. When play resumed Kelduff passed off to John Hickey who quickly hooked in the winning points. Hickey was the game's leading scorer with 32 points.

Intramural Football Contests Display Spirited Competition; Senior Education Leads Loop

The intramural football season swung into high gear with a full agenda of contests last week at Hendrickson Field. The games were supervised by Pete Louthis, Director of Intramurals.

Holding the top spot in the league is Senior Education with a record of 3-0. Following in second place is Senior Business, who also are undefeated in two games.

Tied for third are Math Education and the ROTC Marchons, with one victory and one loss apiece. Next are the ROTC Flankers and the Metropolitan Club, with victories in their initial battles. The rest of the league members have yet to register wins as of this date.

On Tuesday, October 17, the Guzman Tigers and the Greater Boston Club hooked up in a tight contest; and at the final whistle, the result was a scoreless tie.

Resuming the battles on Wednesday, October 18, league leading Senior Education romped to their 3rd straight win by shutting out the ROTC Marchons to the tune of 20-0. In the first game ROTC Marchons won on a forfeit from the Taunton Club.

Thursday, October 19, the league swung into full action with a slate of three games. Math Education nipped the Guzman Panthers, 6-0.

The Metropolitan Club simply overpowered a young Frosh Biology squad 26-6. Don Murphy with 2 touchdowns paved the way along with help from Dick Segura and Gerry O'Brien in convincing style.

In the final game of the day, Senior Business and the Greater Boston Club hooked up in a real thriller, with Senior Business winning a close one, 12-6.

Frosh John Douglas sprints across the finish line in the frosh meet against URI. This was his third straight victory.
